

Destinations

Over the last few years students from Buile Hill Visual Arts college students have increased both their awareness of options across Greater Manchester but also this has enabled students to travel to other colleges, training providers and employers to a wider geographical area and therefore expanding option choice this also has provided students with improved choice and therefore retention.